
Barking Dog Issue Every Night

Posted by ucyi3wl - 2009/05/20 22:43

How would you guys suggest handling a barking dog in the Treymoor section of the neighborhood each night from the hours of 10 till about 1am? I am not sure what is causing this but it has been going on now for almost 3 weeks and it continues to wake up our 9 month old? Any suggestions are welcomed.

Thanks

=====

Re:Barking Dog Issue Every Night

Posted by iveta - 2009/06/03 11:26

I live in Treymoor, too, and hear the dogs bark, too. I am not sure who's dog is it. It is quite annoying. I think first to do, would be to see who's dogs are barking, talk to the owner, and bring the issue to sector's rep attention to be dealt with.

New rep is Mike Thetford theford@myweatherly.com

=====

Re:Barking Dog Issue Every Night

Posted by Boyd81702 - 2009/06/08 10:53

Well - those might be my dogs. I'm sorry if it is. I work at night and come home anywhere between the hours of 10 pm - 4 am. I always go outside to see my babies when I get in. I will work on them being quite. Are they still doing it?

=====

Re:Barking Dog Issue Every Night

Posted by ucyi3wl - 2009/06/10 10:09

It has gotten somewhat better as it is not an every night occurrence as it was about 3 weeks ago. I work an early morning shift so having the baby wake up is an issue as you might expect. If you could work on that it would be greatly appreciated. I myself have not spoken to the rep in the neighborhood nor sought out the owners of the dogs so no worries there. Thanks for helping us out with that!

=====

Re:Barking Dog Issue Every Night

Posted by Boyd81702 - 2009/07/05 00:35

As of Thursday, I had to put one of my doggies to sleep. The barking should not be coming from my home much anymore. My Rott had puppies and developed some issues that could not be fixed so we had to put her down. Only 1yr old so very sad for us. I do have 8 little Rott/Boxer puppies if anyone is interested. They are 5 weeks old. Let me know if you are. I hope the barking has gotten better for you.

=====